

Agenda

Logging Into the Playground:
How Digital Media Are Shaping Children's Learning
May 9, 2008

8:00am Registration and Light Breakfast, McGraw Hall

9:00am Welcoming Remarks, William Oldsey, Executive Vice President, McGraw-Hill Education

Introducing the Joan Ganz Cooney Center

Introduction to the Center's mission and legacy will include a video and brief remarks.

- Gary E. Knell, President and CEO, Sesame Workshop
- Joan Ganz Cooney, Co-Founder, Sesame Workshop

9:30am Special Reports

- The Cooney Challenge: Michael Levine, Executive Director, Joan Ganz Cooney Center
- National Survey: How Parents and Educators View the Educational Potential of New Media, Jim Steyer, Founder & CEO, Common Sense Media
- Getting Over the Slump: Innovation Strategies to Promote Children's Literacy and Learning in the Digital Age, James Paul Gee, Mary Lou Fulton Presidential Professor of Literacy Studies, Arizona State University

10:00am From Virtual Worlds to Digital Classrooms: How Today's Kids Are Knowing and Growing

This session will provide an analysis of digital media use among elementary-aged children, through presentations of utilization research and trend reports. Key issues will include: What are the most popular uses of digital media today in informal and classroom learning? How do these experiences shape literacy development? How do these trends compare for children who aren't technologically savvy or have limited access to digital media?

- Moderator: Claudia Wallis, TIME Magazine
- Panelists will represent different areas of focus:
 - Industry/Market Trends: Buwon Tran, Director of Consumer Research, Casual Entertainment, Electronic Arts
 - Informal Utilization: Jennifer Kotler, Assistant Vice President of Domestic Research, Education, Research and Outreach Department, Sesame Workshop
 - Community Research: Susan Neuman, Professor of Educational Studies, University of Michigan
 - Emerging Digital Media Practices: Francie Alexander, Senior Vice President of Scholastic Education and Chief Academic Officer, Scholastic Inc.

11:00am Something Old, Something New: Literacy Challenges In a Global Age

Reading experts and advocates of "new literacies," such as critical thinking, creativity and cultural awareness, will discuss the essential skills that elementary-aged children need in a global age. Which core competencies will be needed to compete and cooperate, and what role can digital media play to support their acquisition? The panel will focus on strategies for tackling the "fourth grade slump"—the drop in reading ability that occurs in many students when they must make the transition from "learning to read" to "reading to learn."

- Moderator: Lisa Guernsey, journalist, author of Into the Minds of Babes
- Panelists will represent different areas of focus:
 - Reading: Marilyn Jager Adams, Research Professor of Cognitive and Linguistic Sciences, Brown University
 - New Literacies: Bernie Trilling, Global Director, Oracle Education Foundation
 - School Practice: Nichole Pinkard, Senior Research Associate & Assistant Professor, University of Chicago
 - Teacher Capacity: Margaret Honey, Senior Vice President, Strategic Initiatives & Research, Wireless Generation
 - CPB/PBS Initiatives: Lesli Rotenberg, Senior Vice President, PBS KIDS Next Generation Media Initiative and Jayne James, Executive Director, Ready to Learn, Corporation for Public Broadcasting

12:00pm Buffet Lunch

1:00pm Keynote: The New Culture of Learning

Bing Gordon, Chief Creative Officer, Electronic Arts

1:30pm Meeting the Challenge: What Key Sectors Can Do to Accelerate Children's Learning on the New Playground

How should research, industry, policy, community and philanthropic leaders respond to the challenges and opportunities posed by emerging learning technologies? Which priorities must the next President and the critical sectors tackle first?

- Moderator: Linda Roberts, Former Director, Office of Educational Technology, US Department of Education
- Panelists will represent different areas of focus:
 - Public Broadcasting: Rob Lippincott, Senior Vice President, Education, PBS
 - Research: Ellen Wartella, Executive Vice Chancellor & Provost, UC Riverside
 - Philanthropy: Connie Yowell, Director of Education, MacArthur Foundation
 - Community Development: Delia Pompa, Vice President for Education, National Council of La Raza

2:30pm Technology Forum: Presentation of Digital Media Best Practices

A selection of promising educational games and websites will be previewed before attendees are invited to explore them in person in the Signature Dining Room. Best practices to include: an online children's book library that employs unique child-focused user interface and search strategy, innovative uses of iPods to create motivated readers, and an online storytelling tool.

- Moderator: Warren Buckleitner, Editor, Children's Technology Review
- Best practices featured:
 - International Children's Digital Library, Allison Druin, Director, Human-Computer Interaction Lab, University of Maryland
 - Google Earth in the Classroom, Michael T. Jones, Chief Technology Advocate, Google, Inc.
 - Kerpoof, Krista Marks, CEO & Co-Founder, Kerpoof
 - mREAD project, Glenda Revelle, Vice President for Education and Research/Creative Development and Digital Media, Sesame Workshop
 - CAST projects, David Rose, Chief Scientist, CAST
 - Apple in the Classroom, Kathy Shirley, Technology and Media Services Director, Escondido Union School District

3:15pm Wrap Up

- Michael H. Levine, Joan Ganz Cooney Center

3:30pm Technology Demos & Reception, Signature Dining Room

- On-the-floor demonstrations of promising practices
- Young guides from Computers for Youth and Global Kids will be on hand to engage attendees in emerging technologies.

4:30pm Reception Ends